

Ultimate Dating Guide

FIND YOUR PERFECT MATCH!
7 TOP SECRET Personality Traits revealed inside....

By Christopher D Lewin

This little book is written to help you enhance your relationships and make our planet a better place. Enjoy.

By Christopher D Lewin

Contents

Introduction	1
Secret 1 Tolerance	3
Secret 2 Sensitivity	3
Secret 3 Sex Drive	4
Secret 4 Personal Space	5
Secret 5 Money	6
Secret 6 Activity	7
Secret 7 Communication	8

© Golden Pathways To Harmony 2011

All Rights Reserved.

For more information go to:

www.face-reading.com

Ultimate Dating Guide - 7 Top Secret Personality Traits

Being single can be a safe bet with lots of freedom, but within us all there is a desire to share our lives and experience togetherness. To many this seems to be a myth and you may doubt ever finding love and completeness in a relationship. Let's be very honest: you are not going to find the perfect person on this planet. Look in the mirror – what do you see? Do you see a person who is perfect in all ways...

How do you find someone to spend your life with? The answer lies in understanding you were born with certain personality and behavioural traits. 85% of the time, your traits shape your behaviour. I will help you understand and identify my 7 Top Secret Personality Traits.

Take dogs for example

When you look at a German Shepherd you know this breed has certain behavioural characteristics. It is easy to train a German Shepherd to be a guard dog, police dog etc. If you look at a Toy Poodle you don't see the same behavioural characteristics as a German Shepherd. People are similar. To understand a person's character, you need to know their dominant personality traits. The combination of these traits determines their behavioural characteristics.

Many people have studied this subject over the years, Aristotle, Giovanni Battista, Della Porta, Sir Thomas Browne etc.

I have now developed a training program to teach you over 70 Top Secret Personality Traits. You see how the personality traits you were born with predispose your behaviour. Is this scary to you? It doesn't need to be, in fact it's a great relief to many people who finally understand why they and others behave the way they do. Learn to understand the personality trait that is responsible for the behaviour. You can take your life and your relationships to a whole new level! Consider again my example of the German Shepherd and the Toy Poodle – would your life be easier if your relationship was with someone with behavioural traits similar to you. Someone with whom you naturally got along with and life was easy together.

Let's get back to your dating ambitions. Would it help if you could look at a prospective partner and understand them without even speaking to them? Think back over your previous relationships. What have they cost you in time, money and assets, not to mention intangible losses like hurt emotions and pain, only to find out later that your partner was so different to you there was no way the relationship would have worked.

These 7 behavioural traits that 82% of all people dating don't see in the beginning cause 8 out of 10 relationships to fold or become unsatisfactory. I am going to share with you my 7 Top Secret Personality Traits and teach you how to identify and understand them.

The 7 Top Secret Personality Traits reveal:

- Tolerance
- Sensitivity
- Sex Drive
- Personal Space
- Money
- Activity
- Communication

Let us look at my 7 Top Secret Personality Traits and see how they affect you. The most important thing you must ask yourself first is how well do you understand yourself?

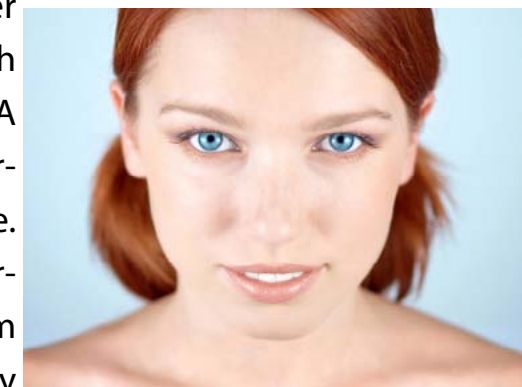

1. How do you rate on the 7 Top Secret Personality Traits?
2. How do people see you in these 7 Top Secret Personality Traits areas?

It may be good to point out none of the 7 Top Secret Personality Traits are set in concrete. You have the opportunity to understand your traits, master them and move forward. You need to know that, if you go back into automatic pilot, your 7 Top Secret Personality Traits will be waiting to take the controls.

Top Secret 1 - Tolerance

This Top Secret Personality Trait is determined by how close the eyes are to the nose. Eyes close to the nose indicate Low Tolerance. Eyes further apart indicate High Tolerance. If you are of Asian or African descent your eyes will naturally be wider apart, so allow a 10% margin.

We call this Top Secret Personality Trait "Tolerance" as it is one that determines how easy a person is to get along with. If two people in a relationship both have Low Tolerance they are compatible and on the same wave-length. However put a person with Low Tolerance and a person with High Tolerance together and you will end up with conflict. A person with High Tolerance does not understand the urgency of action required by a person with Low Tolerance. Likewise the person with Low Tolerance finds the person with High Tolerance frustrating as they don't seem to act quickly enough in certain situations nor do they pay enough attention to the finer details. People who have one eye close to the nose and the other eye further apart from the nose swing from High to Low Tolerance and frustrate themselves. Identifying a person as having a high or low tolerance level will enable you to interact with them far more smoothly, you can make smart choices as to how you act and how you receive their communications.

Top Secret 2 - Sensitivity

There are a number of traits that determine sensitivity, we will look at the main one. This Top Secret Personality Trait is revealed by the size of the gap between the bottom of the nose and the top lip. The shorter the gap, the more sensitive the person is and the more they take things to heart.

If you have a Long Gap, like most politicians, you may say things that cut people with a Short Gap straight to the heart, and not be aware of it. Meanwhile the person with the Short Gap may feel like they have received a deadly blow, and will respond accordingly.

They will either withdraw inwards and be silent, or they may come out fighting to protect themselves.

A person with a Long Gap normally does not understand the Short Gap person's behaviour. They may think the person with the Short Gap is a nut-case. Over time the difference of this trait in your relationship may drive a wedge between you that is very hard to remove. If you are aware of this Top Secret Personality Trait you can work to prevent this from happening.

If you have a Long Gap stop and think how the other person will feel before you comment. You can rephrase the way you say things and avoid conflict. If you have a Short Gap it is always worth looking at the person who has just said something to cause you offense, do they have a Long Gap? If they do, replay what they just said and decide if they really meant to attack you personally or is it the way they communicate.

If the person you are interested in dating has the opposite size gap to you, consider the consequence of being in a relationship with them. If you choose to go ahead please keep the above information fresh in your mind.

Top Secret 3 - Sex Drive

This is a very personal subject. How is the sex life in your relationship? Are you both satisfied or has one partner experienced years of dissatisfaction? We have one Top Secret Personality Trait that determines how much you want or don't want sex. But before I talk about this trait there are a couple of points that need to be made clear. The first one is when you have sex with a person you are connected to them for life unless you know the secret teachings of how to disconnect energetically from someone, so be careful.

The second point is there is a big difference between men and women when they start dating. In women there is an area above the hypothalamus in the brain that swells to the size of a peanut when they fall in love and stays swollen for around sixteen months.

During this time, the woman wears rose-coloured glasses. She does not see the imperfections of the man she has fallen in love with. In the first sixteen months there can be lots and lots of love-making. If the man has a high sex drive, he usually thinks he has died and gone to heaven.

But the peanut will go down after approximately sixteen months. The Top Secret Personality Trait relating to the sex drive will then kick in. If you're the woman and you have a low sex drive you're not going to be interested in sex like you were during the first 16 months of the relationship. By the 16 month mark in most relationships most couples have already moved in-together, got married, had children, merged bank accounts are in deep commitments together. As for the man his sex drive doesn't usually change one way or another and he often wonders what happened to the girl he met.

Therefore it is very good to understand each others sex drive. There are three traits that determine the sex drive but the main Secret Personality Trait relates to the Ring Finger. If, the Ring Finger is longer than the index finger it indicates a high drive. If, as a couple you have both hands with a High Ring Finger then the drive will be strong. If one hand is low and the other hand is high you will fluctuate between wanting it and not wanting it. If it is low on both hands, sex will not be your priority after the peanut goes down. If you are a man where both fingers are low, it was probably never your priority anyway. This trait also relates to risk-taking.

With this knowledge of the Top Secret Personality Trait relating to the sex drive you can understand why some couples split up or have affairs when the two traits are opposite. If you are in this situation you need to come to some compromise that works for both of you. It is interesting to know that most men make their wealth between fifty and sixty, could this be related to the slowing down of the sex drive?

Top Secret 4 - Personal Space

Learning to respect and understand this Top Secret Personality Trait goes a long way to helping people be comfortable in the presence of others. To examine this Top Secret Personality Trait you need to look at the Eyebrows. The higher the Eyebrows, the more the person needs their personal space. If you are a person with Low-Set Eyebrows it doesn't bother you as much if someone touches you or comes into your personal space. While on the other hand if you enter the personal space of a person with High-Set Eyebrows you can instantly cause them offense and they will put up their personal barriers and may not listen to a word you say.

This trait plays out in a number of ways; for example, let's say our couple has one partner with High-Set Eyebrows while the other partner has Low-Set Eyebrows. They are at a party and have a few drinks; the person with the Low-Set Eyebrows starts to get friendlier and is in people's personal space, thinking nothing of it. While the person with the High-Set Eyebrows sees their partner's behaviour as flirting. This sets distrust and jealousy in their mind, resulting in toxic behaviour. On the other hand the partner with the Low-Set eyebrows begins to think how cold and stand-offish their partner is.

Over time this starts to affect where you go as a couple and who you spend your time with. If, as a couple you don't understand the significance of this Secret Personality Trait it may lead to a lot of relationship discontentment. Think about it, you had an argument, one person wants to cuddle and make up while the other person wants their own space and will only let you in when they have mentally processed what happened and are ready to forgive you. This trait can wear away a relationship. You will be amazed as you observe how this Top Secret Personality Trait is reflected in everyday behaviour.

Top Secret 5 - Money

Spending traits are determined by a number of factors, let's discuss the main Top Secret Personality Trait related to money. Look at the Ears; the closer they are to the skull the more the person likes to spend. The further the Ears stick out, some refer to this as wing nuts, the more the person likes to hang onto things including their money.

You don't have to be a rocket scientist to figure out this will affect relationships. Money can be a big stress revealing differences in giving, taking and saving. If these traits are opposite in a relationship I can guarantee the couple will have issues with money or personal possessions.

Just a tip on this - don't touch a person's possessions if their ears stick out. If you have a child with a person whose ears stick out and the child has the same personality trait, never throw out any of their toys without discussing it first. It can cause a lot of pain for the child and take years to heal.

Be warned about this trait; I have heard many stories on how this one Top Secret Personality Trait has played out in people's lives. My wife's good friend relayed her experience with a man she had been dating for a while. For all his wonderful qualities he was unbelievably tight with money. His own mother said to her, "If I hear you have broken up I know it will be about money". This multi-millionaire, wore very old and threadbare clothes, and watched money very closely. It affected how he lived and behaved every day. One hot day his own children asked him for an ice-cream, rather than spend $2 or more on each child he purchased the cheapest water ice-block with two sticks. He then broke it in half and gave each of the children one half. Can you imagine what life his children had? My wife's friend said his behaviour towards money was totally un-logical and unreasonable and this made the entire relationship unworkable. Yes you guessed it they-did-not-stay-together. If your ears stick out then you will have to ask yourself what is more important: your relationship or your money and possessions and make compromises.

Top Secret 6 - Activity

When one person wants to go and do certain things and the other would rather stay put or choose an easier option. What do you think will happen over time as this behaviour is repeated? They will find other people to go with, causing rifts within their relationships. This can be avoided if we understand the main Top Secret Personality Trait that determine if a person is adventurous or not.

This Top Secret Personality Trait is determined by the Cheek Bones, the higher they are set the more Adventurous the person. You will often see this trait on airline hostesses. The person with High Set Cheek Bones loves adventures of one sort or another. It may be travel, new jobs, new houses, new hobbies or friends. They look for ways to satisfy their adventurous trait, this can extend all the way into the bedroom. If you don't have High Set Cheek Bones and your partner does you need to travel and try different things with your partner. Many relationships fail due to this Top Secret Personality Trait.

Be honest with yourself - what sort of life do you want, if you are adventurous do you want to be in a relationship that fences you in? If you are not adventurous you probably want a steady relationship with few changes or travel. You would probably be happy to live in the same town and have a similar job and enjoy the same hobbies and friends your whole life. For an adventurous person, this would be like draining all the colour from their world, their life would be dull and unfulfilled. This results in the adventurous person becoming very angry and resentful towards themselves and their non-adventurous partner.

TOP Secret 7 - Communication

Communication comes in many forms and there are a number of factors that determine its reception and delivery. To reveal this Top Secret Personality Trait you need to look at the Eyelids and see how Exposed the Eyelids are. When you look at a person whose Eyelids are Exposed it indicates they are get-to-the-point. If the eyelid skin is very thick it indicates a touch of unkindness. When you communicate with a person who has Exposed Eyelids they will switch off if you talk for too long. This does not mean they will not talk too much, as their lips indicate how talkative they are.

When communicating with a person with Exposed Eyelids, you need to get-to-the-point very quickly. If they switch off, you need to take immediate action to regain their attention. Keep your dialogue short and sweet. Use dot points and engage them into your conversation. If you tend to talk about yourself, tone it down so they can be an active participant in your conversation.

If you don't have Exposed Eyelids, you have "Hooded" Eyelids, this means when you look in the mirror you see very little or none of your eyelids, whereas a person with Exposed Eyelids has a large amount of eyelid showing. Having "Hooded" Eyelids indicates you are very analytical and like to know a lot about whatever subject you are discussing. You may come across as being very nosey. This trait comes into force when decisions have to be made. The person with Exposed Eyelids has the ability to make decisions very quickly and can be frustrated waiting for the person with the Hooded Eyelids to make their decision.

Often the person with Hooded Eyelids simply needs the right information, facts, statistics, written information, background history etc and when provided with this information they too can make a decision quickly. For the person with the Hooded Eyelids it can be hard watching the person with Exposed Eyelids come to quick decisions. In their mind it appears the person with Exposed Eyelids just does not think things through.

As you look deeper into these traits it becomes clear communication can be easily misunderstood. The key to using my 7 Top Secret Personality Traits is to put yourself in the shoes of the other person. Understand how they receive information and deliver it accordingly.

Let us recap my 7 Top Secret Personality Traits:

- Tolerance – how easy to get along with.
- Sensitivity – how personally they take things.
- Sex – how much they want or don't want.
- Personal Space – how close to get.
- Money – who will spend easily.
- Activity – how adventurous they will be.
- Communication – how to share information

This little book of mine is just the tip of the iceberg on dating and relationship compatibility. I hope it will be helpful for you and allow you to find a truly special person. If you are already in a loving relationship my information can help you to understand why your partner does certain things and why you don't need to take their behaviour to heart.

If you would like to study the subject of Face Reading in more depth, I have developed a worlds-first training program. The course is easy to follow and shows you with a 92% accuracy over seventy (70) Secret Personality Traits.

You can download this course at www.face-reading.com.au

I look forward to hearing how you use the information in this book.

Enjoy life and have fun - Christopher D Lewin

Ultimate Dating Guide

7 Top Secret Ways to find your Perfect Match

© Golden Pathways To Harmony 2011

All Rights Reserved

For more information go to:

www.face-reading.com.au